When Travel Photographer and Author Gayle Harper learned that a raindrop falling into the headwaters of the Mississippi River in Minnesota would travel the River for 90 days to reach the Gulf of Mexico, she knew what would happen next.

She knew that she would make a 90-day road trip following the entire course of the Mississippi, while keeping pace with a raindrop called “Serendipity.” Gayle wandered back roads and met people everywhere, who invited her into their lives in ways that will surprise you! Join us for the road trip of a lifetime!
